Outreach: Innovative Practices For Archives And Special Collections

Synopsis

Outreach: Innovative Practices for Archives and Special Collections explores how archives of different sizes and types are reaching out to new potential users and increasing awareness of programs and collections. The book features twelve case studies that demonstrate ideas that can be transferred into many other settings. Some of the practices described in the case studies rely primarily on technology and the Web to interact with the public, while others are centered on face-to-face activities. The case studies featured are:

- The Oregon Archives Crawl: Engaging New Users and Advocates
- Moved by the Spirit: Opportunistic Promotion of the Hamilton Family S  ance Collection
- Working Within the Law: Public Programming and Continuing Education
- Staying Connected: Engaging Alumni and Students to Digitize the Carl â Pappyâ  Fehr Choral Music Collection
- Pin  pointing Success: Assessing the Value of Pinterest and Historypin for Special Collections Outreach
- Creating a New Learning Center: Designing a Space to Support Multiple Outreach Goals
- "Wikipedia is made of people!" : Revelations from Collaborating with the World's Most Popular Encyclopedia
- 21 Revolutions: New Art from Old Objects
- Happy Accidents and Unintended Consequences: How We Named Our Tribble
- Navigating Nightingale: Creating an App Out of Archives
- DIY History: Redesigning a Platform for a Transcription Crowdsourcing Initiative
- Taking Preservation to the People: Educating the Public About Personal Digital Archiving

All twelve case studies look at outreach as identifying the organization's intended audience, building new ways of reaching them, and helping the organization achieve its mission. Each also reflects a philosophy of experimentation that is perhaps the most critical ingredient for any organization interested in developing its own "innovative" practices. This volume will be useful to those working in archives and special collections as well as other cultural heritage organizations, and provides ideas ranging from those that require long-term planning and coordination to those that could be immediately implemented. It also provides students and educators in archives, library, and public history graduate programs a resource for understanding the variety of ways people conduct outreach in the field today and the kinds of strategies archivists are using to attract new users to collections.
